Sloan and Kirkpatrick launched Modulus in March 2021 and have made financial literacy a core mission at the firm.

Technical Tuesdays is a series of eight videos explaining financial terms such as bonds and shares to give people a basic grounding in how money works.

'Sometimes people don't ask questions for fear of seeming silly. We want to make finance more approachable,' Sloan said.

'The lingo and jargon in the industry can put people off getting involved, so we want to do something to break down those barriers.'

The pair intend to release more content – largely about taxation – towards the end of the 2021/22 financial year. They also hope to run some webinars before long too. To check out the latest episode of Technical Tuesdays click here.
